Community Faces Prospect Of First War Loan Failure

Purchases Of E-Bonds Log At $89,375 With Three Weeks To Hit $125,000 Quota

Urgent need for purchase of War Bonds of all types to meet this county's quota was reported in reports of sales in the War Loan as compiled for C. F. Engelhardt, chairman, Tuesday night when total of all purchases other than E-Bonds was $72,940 and the E-Bond total at $89,375.

The two Princeton banks and the postoffice had sales amounting to $76,875 and this included $100 worth previously reported sold by the women's committee, Mrs. Frank G. Wood, chairman.

Grand total of all types of War Bonds purchased in Princeton and Caldwell county up to Monday night was reported as $162,325 against the county's quota of $125,000. The campaign ends June 30 for all except the E-Bond, deadline for which is July 7. The E-Bond quota is $125,000.

The Fredonia Valley Bank reported sale of $12,500, all in E-Bonds, Dr. Engelhardt said Tuesday morning.

From the Kansas City Federal Reserve Bank, allocation of $1,000 worth of bonds to this county was a purchase made by the Midcontinent Petroleum Co., from the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, $1,000 purchased by E. A. McElroy Co., and from the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank, $2500 purchased by the Southern Bell Telephone Co. were added to this county's total this week, all three purchases being in C-Bonds, the chairman said.

Allocation of $200,000 in War Bonds by State Treasurer Tom Hinson, reported previously, has not come through yet, the chairman said.

Bids Asked On Surfacing Three Roads In County

Caldwell county's end of the Princeton-Hopkinsville road will be surfaced this summer with bituminous seal coating, according to an advertisement of the State Highway Department appearing in this issue of The Leader, but no provision has been made for surfacing the Christian county portion of this much-used route, approximately 16 miles of none too good rock-bound macadam.

The State Highway Department also is asking for bids, for similar treatment, on 2.358 miles of the Fredonia-Eddyville road.

Passengers Save By Court Ruling

Coch Fares In Kentucky Put Back At Lower Level

(By Associated Press) Lexington, June 13 — A saving of approximately $600,000 annually for railroad coach passengers traveling within the borders of Kentucky will result from the Supreme Court's decision throwing out an Interstate Commerce Commission order increasing intrastate coach fares in four southern states.

J. E. Marks, who acted in an advisory capacity for the Kentucky Railroad Commission, and who argued the appeal before the Supreme Court, made the estimate and said his figure was based on present State Railroad Commission, which had refused to authorize the increase originally, and the Commonwealth of Kentucky, joined in the appeal to the Supreme Court with three other states.

Marks said the decision means a reduction of 25 percent in coach fares on the Louisville & Nashville railroad and the Southern Railway, and somewhat lesser amounts on the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Illinois Central.

Fares on all four lines now will be restored to the previous level, Marks said.

Methodist Women To Hear Missionaries

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist churches in this area will hold a district meeting June 19, at 10 o'clock, at Ogden Memorial Methodist Church, with an all-day session. Edna Cate Archer and Mary Curry will be the guest speakers. Mrs. Archer is a Methodist missionary, having served in Java, Sumatra and Malaya, before outbreak of the war with the Japanese. All denominations are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Truman Asks Citizens To Remain At Home

(By Associated Press) Washington, — A plea for citizens to "stay at home" in the months ahead to relieve a critical transportation emergency was voiced today by President Truman. He said it becomes necessary he will call for government control of travel.

The President added he hoped such a course would not be necessary and that he did not anticipate it.

Present Quarters Make Operation Burden Too Heavy

Snake In Patient's Room Brings Decision At Meeting Monday Night

Princeton likely will have no hospital after October 1, it having been decided by the operating board to abandon the present service on that date at a meeting held Monday night, Gordon Lisanby, president, said.

The decision was reached because of insuperable burdens in attempting to continue operating the hospital in the present quarters, members of the board said.

Mrs. J. B. Tanner, superintendent, said Wednesday it is impossible to keep vermin out of the building.

Sunday afternoon a patient was badly frightened when she woke and found a five-foot snake on the dresser in her room. The snake was believed to have entered through a hole in the baseboard of the room occupied by Mrs. Lewis Fleckner, Dalton, who was to have gone home Monday. She left Sunday, after Dr. Frank Glanville killed the snake. The hole in the baseboard was repaired Monday, Mrs. Tanner said.

At a called meeting of the Hospital Board Monday night, several members are reported to have insisted the hospital be closed at once but others prevailed with the suggestion that a final attempt be made to obtain funds with which to start a new hospital here, and the decision to continue the operation until October 1 resulted.

If there is indication that the public realizes the very great loss to the community which will result if the hospital is abandoned and there is no service here, especially for handling emergency cases, the board may decide to keep the present hospital going a while, but only for emergency cases and not for general treatment, Mr. Lisanby said.

Kiwanis Old Men All Propped Up For Rotary Colts

Softball Game At Butler Stadium Friday Night Promises Fun For Spectators And Funds For Underprivileged Children; Bryant Squad Practices But Blazier's "Boys" Conserve Strength

After carefully assessing all available players, Capt. Ralph Blazier, of the Kiwanis Old Men, has selected his softball team to uphold the honor of that organization against Capt. K. V. Bryant's obstreperous Rotary Colts in Butler Stadium Friday night. . . and whatever the outcome, both leaders say they will have no alibis, a statement hard to take.

The game will get under way (it is hoped) at 7:30 o'clock, with proceeds going to the Underprivileged Children's funds of both clubs.

Ambulances will be provided by G. Homer Brown and the Morgan Funeral Home and Troop No. 39, Boy Scouts, will have a first aid crew on hand. Physicians will sit on the players' bench to render whatever aid possible when casualties occur.

Programs carrying the compliments and sympathies of members of both clubs (who hope not to be called on to play) were circulated about town early this week. Carl Sparks "sold" the program, with participation limited to Kiwanis and Rotary memberships. . . and through this medium, a cash benefit is assured needy children of the community, regardless of whether the attraction draws well at the gate.

Manager Bryant is said to have held secret practice for his team at an unknown place at least once this week and is emphatic that his boys will win an easy

Board Grants Stadium Use

Thursday, Friday And Saturday, Aug. 23-24-25 Tentatively Fixed As Dates; No Donations Will Be Asked But Admission Will Be Charged At Gate; Prominent Stables Promise To Send Entries

Princeton will have its horse show again this summer, with the Country Club as sponsor and every indication that the event will attract more entries from prominent stables and be one of the foremost shows in western Kentucky.

Decision to sponsor this year's horse show was taken by directors of the Country Club at a meeting held last Friday night, after discussion of a proposal from the Horse Show Association, by the terms of which the sponsor agrees to pay the association 10 percent of any net profit and to stand all losses.

Permission to hold the horse show in Butler Stadium has been granted, Clyde Kercheval, chairman of the committee to wait on the City Board of Education in this regard, reported. There is to be no use of the stadium for workouts, or days or nights preceding the show, it was stipulated.

Tentative plans call for the event to be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 23, 24 and 25, with the Thursday program being staged in the old baseball park, at the west end of Main street, and perhaps, mule and halter rings on Court Square.

Bedford McChesney, last year's manager of the horse show and president of the association, said he had been in contact with numerous exhibitors and was assured they would send their fine horses here if Princeton put on such a show as last year's. He said the local show should be planned on the dates suggested above, so as to cooperate with the Murray show, sponsored by the Women's Club and annually a great success.

No solicitation of financial donations will be made, with which to provide premiums, and the county fair section will be abandoned, it was decided. Instead of cash donations to meet the expense of $2800 given in premiums, for trophies, ribbons, etc., last year, this year's show will charge admission at the gate and the scale prices to be fixed later, and sell advertising in a souvenir catalog.

All other horse shows in Kentucky and Tennessee charge admission, it was shown, and wide acceptance of the event here last year gives indication the public hereabouts will support the show well, the sponsors were advised.

Present at the meeting were: Bedford McChesney, Clyde Kercheval, Edwin Lamb, J. F. Graham, Carl Sparks, Merle Drain, Iley McGough, Alvin Lisanby, J. B. Lester, Grayson Harrison and G. M. Pedley, representing the executive committees of the Horse Show Association and the Country Club.

Committees named by Grayson Harrison, president of the Country Club, at a meeting held Tuesday night, June 12, to have active charge of various phases of the horse show, are as follows:

Advertising: J. B. Lester, John Morgan, Glenn Farmer, Roy Rowland, Hugh Cherry and Mark Cunningham.

Promotion and Publicity: G. M. Pedley, Tom Simmons, Iley McGough and Virgil Smith.

Tickets: Saul Pogrosky, Conway Lacey, Mark Cunningham and John E. Young.

Grounds: Clyde Kercheval, Edwin Lamb, C. A. Horn, Ralph Blazier, Carroll Wadlington, Hewlett Morgan and John Mahan.

Concessions: Merle Drain, Merle Brown, Clifton Pruett, Dr. C. H. Jagers.

Horse Show: W. C. Sparks, Hearne Harrison, J. F. Graham, Bedford McChesney, Billy McConnell.

Music: K. V. Bryant.

Gov. S. S. Willis To Open Frankfort's Horse Show

(By Associated Press) Frankfort, June 12 — Governor Willis will formerly open the Frankfort Lions Club's two-day horse show Friday night, Chairman William H. May said. The show committee said 60 to 70 top show horses from this area would compete in 33 classes. Thirteen preliminary events are scheduled Friday night with championship stakes in the gaited and harness divisions concluding the Saturday night program.

"The year leading stables have been responding indicates a highly successful show," said May, former state agriculture commissioner. The event will be staged at the Kentucky State college athletic field.

Summer Activities For Youth Not Neglected Here

Apparently Princeton is to have no supervised public playground program this summer it appearing, according to those who were most actively interested in the attempt to offer our youth such an outlet in two previous years, the effort failed to pay proper dividends.

We have this summer instead of the playgrounds on Butler and Eastside schoolyards, the Teen-Age Club and a boys' softball league, the latter just getting started this week on a lot at the west end of Locust street.

The Teen-Age Club seems to fill a need of a large number of youngsters, K. V. Bryant being our authority for believing an average of 100 boys and girls use its facilities every night it is open. And, as far as we are aware, there has been no slightest disorder and no complaint registered by anybody about anything connected with this meeting and recreation place in the heart of the downtown district . . . since earlier closing has been the rule.

As for the softball league, in which more than 60 boys already are enrolled—this should prove highly popular and materially beneficial to a large group, while not interfering with summer employment, if the players are minded to work, as games will be played at night.

Now We Must Fight Our Worst Home Front Enemy

Inflation, which many realize could cause defeat and chaos in this Nation despite military victory, is the most insidious enemy on the home front.

And inflation threatens now because the national income is the highest in our country's history and there is less to buy. Too much money and too little goods spells economic peril.

Every major war in which we have engaged has caused inflation. In the Revolutionary War days, flour was $1775 a barrel and butter, $12 a pound. Boots brought $200 a pair in the South in 1865, and potatoes, $25 a bushel. During World War I, civilians paid $2.07 for what they bought for $1 in 1914. Sugar was 25 cents a pound and eggs averaged 92 cents a dozen. Clothing prices trebled and rents doubled. The other day, we heard a long-time housekeeper of Princeton say she paid $30 for 100 pounds of sugar during the other World War.

Now we are beginning to feel the real pinch of wartime shortages. Reconversion has started and already is reaching into many homes. The whole process of returning to a peace-time basis will be full of shocks to the body politic. Virtually all of us will have personal reconversion problems and how well we solve them will determine the economic welfare of the Nation for the next few Rumsey Taylor, always in the forefront of those interested in promoting best interests of the youth of the community, is to be commended for sponsoring the softball league. He doubtless will get large dividends in personal satisfaction and in gratitude of the youngsters who comprise the teams at play.

Despite oft-repeated rumors that Princeton has a group of juvenile delinquents "who ought to be in the reform school", it seems to us the community is fortunate in that it has a large number of good citizens who are willing to contribute to the Teen-Age Club, as well as others who go much further in backing with their money the splendid Boy Scout organization we have here . . . and scores who stand ready, at any time, to provide for our young folk a generous measure of healthful recreation.

That the playground program failed cannot properly be charged to the adults here who sponsored the plan and fostered it the best they knew how.

Perhaps, in another and more normal period, public playgrounds, well equipped and properly supervised, may come into successful operation and wide popularity in Princeton.

And some fine day, we hope our town can have a public swimming pool.

years, perhaps for many years.

A backward glance at history should help. During the last war and the inflationary period which followed, we allowed prices to rise 108 percent over prewar levels. Then, from May 1920 to June 1921, prices dropped 139 percent . . . and we had unemployment, business failures, farm mortgage foreclosures, bank closings and near panic.

In the present war period we have held the cost of living rise to 28.6 percent. But today, inflationary pressures are much stronger than they were immediately after the World War I armistice; also, there is more purchasing power and some shortages are more acute.

But today, we have the means of curbing inflation and there is a good chance we will do it if: We buy only our share of what is available and only the things we need; we inform ourselves about ceiling prices and refuse to pay more, we avoid Black Markets, and if we report to the War Price and Rationing Board or the county OPA office all known overcharges.

And above all at this moment, we should not permit the victory in Europe to persuade us to spend unduly in an effort to obtain larger shares of scarce supplies; for if we do, inflationary pressures are sure to grow.

Poetizing — Memorizing

The most ancient form of composition was not prose, as one might believe at first thought, but verse. The reason for this may have been entirely practical. Only a few could write or read. The remainder depended on these to read or recite to them. In order to impress what they read on the attention and memory of these listeners they used rhythm so that the listener, associating the pleasing sound with the thought, would "take it in" better and remember it longer.

The development of figures of speech, incident, illustrative analogies and similar literary ornamentation was, we think, for the same purpose. They attracted attention, caught the interest and fixed the subject in the memory of the listeners. For the same reason our merchants, today, dress their show windows carefully to attract attention and to center the interest of the passerby on certain special items being displayed, appealing to the eyes instead of the ears.

Perhaps most of our readers have, at one time or another, seen a memory expert put on his act, meeting a large number of people and, an hour or so later, repeating the name and business of each. He was able to do this by associating the name and business, at the time of the introduction, with some other object or idea. By this means his memory got, not one, but several grips or handholds on the facts he wanted to remember. The basic principle of all the memory courses we see advertised nowadays is the association of objects and ideas one wishes to remember with other ideas and objects which act as prompts to his memory, when needed.

Poetry is thus in a sense the earliest of our advertising methods from which our present ones are an evolution. You may not have thought of it, in this way, but old Homer was the fountain-head of our advertising art as well as our poetry.

That is why a fine public library is one of the most practical assets a community can have. It is a bank filled with ideas and thoughts which can be combined and used to serve our every need and purpose. (Cynthiana Democrat)

Flames raced through many American farm buildings to cause a fire loss of nearly $90,000,000 last year. Leading causes of farm fires are careless smoking, dirty or defective stoves and flues, flammable roofs, careless handling of gasoline or kerosene, spontaneous ignition of hay, and lightning.

More than a third of all farm accident fatalities occurred in recent years in the 45 to 64 age group. (The strain on this age group will be heavy again this year with many of the younger farm workers still in the armed forces.)

Approximately four centuries B. C., the territory later called the Low Countries was inhabited principally by three peoples: the Belgae, supposedly of Celtic origin; the Batavii and the Frisii, ancestors of the Dutch.

Politically, Belgium is a constitutional monarchy.

Irl Stevens sent me from Chicago this week a clipping of a very fine newspaper column, written by Howard V. O'Brien, Daily News columnist, about his boy's leaving for the army. The column, entitled "So Long Son", won for O'Brien, the award of the National Headliners' Club for 1945 as the "best feature column" in the Windy City. Irl, expressing his old fondness for Princeton, says he misses his old friends here and sends kindest regards to them all.

J. B. Lester, erstwhile top golfer of the local club, was giving Clyde Kercheval a lesson the other day. But Clyde said it didn't help any because he is left-handed and J. B. is not.

The handicap tournament, slowed by the rains, produced some upsets last Sunday but Iley McGough said he was lucky to eliminate Doc Rosenthal . . . who had Iley sweating . . . until the strain of the second nine exhausted the neophyte.

Curfew rings at midnight out at the Country Club . . . and if you don't believe the gate is locked at that time, ask the trio who became believers last week.

Corbin, population 7893, about 400 miles from Princeton, learned about Mayor Winn Davis, Glasgow, and his missionary work in Princeton for a new hospital here, through The Leader . . . so now Mayor Davis is booked to tell the Corbin folk about his 15 years' experience with the Glasgow Hospital and what that institution has meant to his community.

You may remember Mayor Davis told the Princeton Kiwanis Club the Glasgow Hospital is recognized as the town's biggest business asset. When he speaks in the school auditorium at Corbin, he will create much enthusiasm for a community hospital there and, having a much larger audience, likely will give great impetus to that city's effort to provide a modern hospital service for the surrounding community.

minded him of the story about the Negro and the white man shooting dice . . . the Negro won, but was afraid to pick up the money!

Ed Blackburn, who is considerable of an authority around here on things of interest in Caldwell county, told me the frame dwelling on Hawthorne street which burned last week was part of the famous old Marble House, a stage-coach inn many years ago.

Mr. B. said the original house had a long ell extending down a side street, which was razed some time back, and the part that burned was only half of the structure which fronted on Hawthorne street, the other half having been torn down long ago.

Harold Rhodenbaugh, ace photographer for the Courier-Journal before the war, came to Princeton in the autumn of 1941, taking pictures for his paper's forthcoming Kentucky Sesquicentennial edition . . . and he "shot" some noted old houses here. But the C-J had too many pictures to get them all into its big special issue, so Princeton's fine old homes were left out.

After the war is over and newsprint is plentiful again, so we can print as large a paper as we want to . . . these old and well-loved family homes will be featured in stories and pictures on the front page of Section 2 of The Leader. And that's a promise!

Despite all the hardships and brutality of Germany prison camps, 99 percent of American prisoners of war will return home, a Red Cross bulletin received by The Leader this week declares. Much anxiety has been caused on the home front because of a lack of understanding of the difference between concentration camps and prisoner of war camps. The latter enjoyed the protection of the Geneva convention.

The Red Cross did a great job

It is well to put off until tomorrow the worrying you can have, done today, says Ray Sunshine, and it is all right to pitch in and dig, if you're sure where you throw the dirt.

New Horizons FOR THE FARMS OF TOMORROW

The future is bright for more and better telephone service for people living in rural areas.

Plans are already under way for resuming our rural telephone expansion program which was suspended in 1942 when equipment and materials became more urgently needed for the armed forces. Surveys are being made to determine the needs and to provide the facts from which we can carry out plans for expansion of farm telephone service.

The Southern Bell Company's farm telephone expansion program is part of the Bell System's nationwide program for rural telephone extension when materials become available again. This program calls for expenditure of a hundred million dollars during a three-to-five year period and will be an important factor in providing jobs for the thousands of telephone men now in the armed forces.

A GREAT SYSTEM for Jim, that is. But a little unfair to the other swimmers.

Swimming a race or running a business is pretty easy when you don't have to pull your own weight!

Take government-owned electric power-systems, for example. They pay little or no taxes. When they need money, they can call on the U. S. Treasury and get it at little or no interest. If they have losses, why worry? You, as a taxpayer, will take care of that.

Business-managed power-systems do not have these special privileges. They pay their full share of taxes, pay fair interest on any loans, pull their own weight.

Fortunately for you and your tax bill, over 80% of all electric power in this country is produced by tax-paying, self-supporting electric companies owned and operated by millions of Americans.

And how well are these companies doing their job?

Electricity is still available at low pre-war prices. There is enough to meet even the gigantic demands of war. And there will be plenty to help give you greater comfort and convenience in the electric living of the post-war world.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN TO YOU?

Government ownership of any business is a threat to every American in business.

Whether you run a shop, garage or factory, government ownership means you have a rival across the street who enjoys special privileges at your expense.

He has little or no need to pay, can borrow money at little or no interest, can keep on operating at a loss—and YOU are called upon to help make up that loss!

County Agent's Column

By J. F. Graham

Summary of the 1945 census shows that Caldwell county has 1,185 farms which contains 186,747 acres averaging 158 acres a farm. The farm acreage is approximately the same as earlier years; however, the number of farms is decreasing and the average size farm is increasing. The 1935 census gave 1,885 farms, the 1940 census gave 1,585 and the 1945 census has decreased by 22 per cent. We still have many farms small for efficient operation. Present day equipment, therefore, should expect the farm to continue to larger units. According to this census we produced 30,117 acres of corn and 1,153 acres of tobacco in 1944, or 31,274 acres of crops in addition to truck crops, gardens, and other row crops of minor importance.

Chair Cost 29 Cents
Twenty-nine cents was the cost of an attractive slip-covered bedroom chair made by Mrs. Louis Walsh of the Woodburn Homemakers Club in Woodburn county. Using a discarded chair which she had repaired, she added padding and then made a slip-cover of flower-designed feed bags. The 29 cents was spent for bias binding and cord.

We have approximately 125,000 acres of cropland in the county. If we maintain and improve soils to the best interest of farmers and the public generally, our row crop acres probably should be reduced to about 25,000 acres per year, and look to greater yields per acre to produce the feed supplies required for a balance between pasture, hay, grain and livestock. Our greatest opportunities in crop production lies in increased yields per acre rather than larger acreages.

The 1945 census also revealed that there were 85 idle farms in the county in 1944. These farms are composed of 6055 acres. Altho no explanation is given as to why these farms are idle, no doubt farm labor shortage is chiefly responsible. As a whole, it would be expected

News From The Past

News representing lives, hopes, dreams and ambitions of those who made up the populace of Princeton and Caldwell county almost 40 years ago recorded nowhere but in the yellowed files of Twice-A-Week Leader of those years will be published as a regular Leader feature. The articles are reproduced just as the Princeton reporters, shortly after the turn of the century, wrote them.

Princeton, Ky., Feb. 28, 1902. The two small children of Will Stone were burned to death last Thursday morning. Mr. Stone is a tenant on the farm of Frank Hughes, and the mother had locked the children that the idle farms are among the lower producing farms.

These figures would indicate that we have a job to do in adjusting crops and practices to the land. It is the responsibility of each individual farmer to work out a program for the best use of his land, so as to improve and maintain soil fertility and at the same time get a satisfactory living from it.

It is conservatively estimated that the average farm income of the county could be increased 50 percent by improving the soil that needs improving to the level of fertility which is altogether practical. The methods are easily within the reach of all our farmers. This will require knowledge, time, hard work, and a great deal of capital, but it can be done, and done profitably. It is worth the effort.

Princeton, Ky., March 5, 1918. Again the young folks of the Twin Springs community were highly entertained Saturday night, by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Satterfield. The occasion being an old-fashioned pound supper, given in honor of Ferd Cash, Mrs. Satterfield's brother.

Mrs. Satterfield deserves much credit for the manner in which she entertains, and no doubt is wished many happy returns of the day, by all who had the pleasure of enjoying her hospitality.

Excellent music was furnished and the evening passed off only two rapidly, to the merry makers, and at a late hour, they departed for their various homes, after a very pleasant evening.

Those present were: Misses Naoma Tandy, Lucy Hobson, Ora Cravens, Willie Martin, Mary Rogers, Edna Hawkins, Audra Johnson, Nellie Prince, Alta Weaver, Helen Mitchell, Bertha Gresham, Elizabeth Gray; Messrs. Fred Cash, Eugene and R. B. Tandy, Hubert Brown, Frank Wells, Clarence Gore, Curtis and Chester Hawkins, Vance and Hershel Drennan, Charles and Price Lester, Raymond Garrett, Loyd and Glenn

Fruit May Be Canned Without Sugar, Says U. K. Specialist

Lexington, June 12 — Fruit may be canned successfully without use of sugar, it was pointed out here today by Mrs. Pearl J. Haak, State supervisor of food conservation, University of Kentucky Extension Service, in response to many questions prompted by OPA restrictions on canning sugar.

According to the conservation specialist, sugar does not act as a preservative and fruit will keep just as well if it is canned without sweetening.

In canning fruit without sugar, the same procedure is followed as with sweetened fruit, except that boiling water or boiling fruit juice is substituted for the usual sirup.

Altho canned fruit needs no sugar as a preservative, Mrs. Haak pointed out that the small amount of sugar helps the fruit to hold color and flavor.

She suggested the following methods of "stretching" sugar for canning:

1. For canning choose only those fruits which are fully ripe and naturally more sweet.

2. Use a thinner sirup for canning the sweeter fruits. The recommended wartime proportion of sugar is 1 pound to 4 quarts of finished fruits. This makes a medium-thin sirup averaging about 1/4 cup sugar per quart of fruit. When fruits are precooked and packed hot—and solidly—it takes little sirup to fill the jar.

3. For juicy fruits, extract the juice from some of the fruit and use it in place of water in the canning sirup—then only a small amount of sugar is needed in the sirup for there is extra fruit sugar present.

4. Use light corn sirup to replace up to 1/3 of the sugar or mild honey to replace up to 1/2 of the sugar in making regular canning sirups. Do not use molasses, as its flavor overpowers the fruit, gives it a dark color, and may cause spoilage.

Never don clothes until 5 or 10 minutes after applying anti-perpirants or skin lotions. Serve foods immediately after cooking in order to gain their highest food value. Mustard is believed to be the most popular spice in America.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periods. Here's how it may help:

1. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Three Cash Prizes In Tom Wallace Forestry Contest

Three cash prizes totaling $400, including an additional $100 prize this year, will be given winning Kentucky and Southern Indiana farm foresters in the 1945 Tom Wallace Forestry Award announced by Mark Ethridge, publisher of The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times and general manager of Radio Station WHAS, sponsors of the contest.

Named in honor of Tom Wallace, nationally known conservationist and editor of The Louisville Times, the award in its fourth year is directed at stimulating constructive farm forestry programs in this area, Ethridge said.

A $200 grand prize will be given the winning contestant who has carried through a complete forestry program this year, including protection, management and utilization of established woods areas, as well as planting and protecting new forest tree seedlings.

Farmers Approve Land Management

Four hundred tons of limestone, four carloads of phosphate and six carloads of commercial fertilizers were used in the land management program in Rockcastle county in April. County Agent Robert F. Spence expects 2,000 acres will be farmed on the contour. Four drainage systems are being installed this spring.

A conservation and natural resources program has been organized in 12 communities. It includes application of limestone and phosphate, contour cultivation, more winter cover crops, control of gullies, and drainage of wet land.

Two $100 prizes are being planned to give a chance both to farmers who have the best record in protection, management and utilization of established woods areas and to those who have new areas this year.

The contest form has been changed this year to a concise questionnaire which can be obtained immediately by writing to the Tom Wallace Forestry Award Editor, % the two papers and the radio station.

The contest deadline is November 1, when completed questionnaires must be returned to The Tom Wallace Forestry Award Judges, % The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times, Radio Station WHAS, Louisville 2, Kentucky.

Balbo Saves Feed

That balbo rye for pasture this spring saved the farmers of Knox county thousands of dollars in feed as stated by Farm Agent Gray H. Williams. He reports that Corbin Melton estimated he saved $150 in feed by grazing 30 head of beef cattle on 12 acres of balbo rye. Smith's Dairy, Corbin, also stated they saved around $200 when they turned their dairy herds on balbo rye. One six-acre field was grazed until April and two weeks later the rye was 4 feet tall. This field will be harvested for seed. Another six-acre rye field also provided pasture.

Dad's a good egg!
LET'S GIVE HIM A BREAK!

In an age that has seen so many wars most fathers are either in this one or they were in the last. Soldiers, sailors and airmen of all ages dot the landscape.

But regardless of the military side Dad is always a soldier. His fight for his family never ends. Through bad times and good he must get through with bread for us all.

As the family grows, so does his pride in its achievements. Maybe he carries a picture or two in his pocket, and he is liable to pull them out on the slightest provocation.

These days, when every conversation is about the war, he likes to tell about the last letter from Johnny, who's doing well "somewhere" in the service. That's just like Dad.

That's just one of the countless reasons why we couldn't do without him.

Yes, Dad was a soldier—Still is.
We honor him this Father's Day

Let's give Him a Gift for Father's Day --- Next Sunday!

THANKS TO RETONGA HE CAN WORK EXTRA NOW

He Felt So Bad For A Year He Wondered Whether He Could Keep Going, Says Well-Known Resident. Run Down Feeling Promptly Relieved.

Happy and grateful for the relief Retonga gave them, often thousands of happy men and women are gratefully praising this noted herbal stomachic and Vitamin B-1 medicine. For instance, Mr. Robert R. Russell, 2713 34th Ave., North, Birmingham, Ala., a Mason and a staunch churchman happily declares:

"I felt so rundown and sluggish it was all I could do to get through a days work. I couldn't sleep well at night and I woke up every morning feeling all fagged out. The muscles in my neck were often so sore and painful that I could hardly turn my head. I had to take strong laxatives all the time and my head ached until it felt like the top was coming off. I could scarcely keep going from one day to the next.

"Retonga gave me more relieved than everything else combined. I sleep fine and get up feeling good. That fagged out feeling, sore muscles, constipation and terrific headaches have been relieved, and I even work a good deal of over time and enjoy it. Retonga beats any medicine I ever saw."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to Vitamin B-1 deficiency, constipation, insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, and loss of appetite. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Dawson's Drug Store. —(adv.)

When Your Back Hurts -

And Your Strength and Energy is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

Pasture Program Makes Sheep Pay

Small grain pasture for winter early spring, followed by clover until lespedeza ready to graze, is making sheep pay in Ohio county, according to County Agent R. D. He says the system has following advantages:

It provides an abundance of tender pasture at the time lambs need it most.

It provides for pasture in which sheep and goats are kept on relatively small ground.

When used in connection with burley tobacco, crimson clover seeded at the rate of 40 pounds to the acre provides an abundance of green feed to turn under.

It enables western Kentucky farmers to keep a much larger number of sheep than they could be able to keep on so-called permanent pasture.

THE GARDEN

By John S. Gardner, Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics

Many early planted potatoes were bitten down by frost; some, several times. Although new tops started, the handicap of having lost the first sprout often shows in lowered yields. Many spring-crop potatoes had to be planted late because of the season; the yield of these is uncertain. And, yet, next winter must be provided for; there must be potatoes. A fall crop should be planted.

There are several varieties suited to this purpose. One is the "July" potato, possibly McCormick or Peachblow, but these are rarely found with dealers, but sometimes farmers can spare a few for their neighbors. Two other "farm" varieties are Buckskin (Kenton and Campbell counties) and Snowflake (McCracken county).

Of seedsmen's varieties there are two: Russet Rural and Green Mountain. Both these, planted toward the end of June as the others should be, give high yields of excellent table quality to stay usable, if held in an ordinary house cellar, until 1946's early crop is dug. These are real "winter potatoes."

The land into which they are to go should have been kept clean of weeds; preferably the potatoes should be the first crop of the year. Breaking should be as deep as the topsoil, 10 inches, for example. Thus, a huge moisture reservoir is provided against possible drought late this summer.

The furrows should be 30 to 36 inches apart, and 5 inches deep. In these, the fertilizer (4-12-4 or 3-9-6) should be drilled and worked into the soil as deep as possible. This is to pull the roots down to where there is moisture and coolness, too.

Seed pieces for summer-planted potatoes should be slightly larger than for the early crop, 1 1/4 to 2 ounces. They should be dropped no closer than 15 inches (18 is better), as all late potatoes make large vines. Seed covering should be level, and the surface should be kept level. Cultivation should be shallow, of the "scratch" variety to conserve moisture.

This crop of potatoes may suffer from left-over Colorado beetles and flea-beetles and, specifically, from leaf-hoppers and blight. The control for all four is Bordeaux mixture to which calcium arsenate has been added. Three sprays should be given, the first when the last of the potatoes have just come up, and the second, two weeks later, and the last, in two weeks again.

Heavy Wind, Rain Cause Serious Damage To Crops

Trees Blown Down And Basements Flooded In Town; Corn, Tobacco, Hay Hard Hit

Heavy wind and rain storms which visited this county and other sections of western Kentucky last weekend did many thousands of dollars in damage and will have the effect of seriously curtailing corn and tobacco production unless favorable weather conditions prevail the next several weeks, County Agent J. F. Graham said Monday.

In Princeton, many fine trees were blown down or had large limbs broken off and the City street department crew did yeoman work clearing streets of dangerous barriers. Some wires went down in Saturday's wind storm, interfering with telephone service, and electric power was off Saturday afternoon from 2 until nearly 5 o'clock.

In the Tradewater River, Donalson Creek, Flynn's Fork and Piney Creek sections water is standing deep on corn and tobacco fields and it will be at least two weeks before this ground can be worked, even if no further rain falls, Mr. Graham said, making planting and re-planting of corn and tobacco very late.

Asa Morse reported Monday morning that water in the Creswell section had been standing in the bottoms for four days and, after Saturday night's rain, was the deepest he had ever seen there.

A small lake had formed over tobacco on the Pettit farm and a tenant house on W. C. Sparks' farm was completely surrounded by water Monday morning. John Mahan reported a four-acre lake over his tobacco crop. Numerous reports came in to the county agent's office of flooded corn and tobacco crops, and of other damage from washed ridges.

Hay which had been cut June 2, 4 and 5 and which has had rainfall on it every day since, is ruined, Mr. Graham said. Barley, rye and wheat has been damaged by heavy wind and rain.

The second cutting of alfalfa may be better than the first in this county, Mr. Graham said, providing too much rain does not fall in the next week or so, and pastures have been improved by the rains of the last week, altho this improvement would have been more marked with less rainfall, he said.

Worst damage to fine old trees in Princeton was suffered on Butler School's campus, where the wind ripped several large maples and broke one off beyond salvage.

Lightning struck a dwelling in White City, occupied by Jim Simpson, causing a run by the fire department. Damage was reported slight.

Several downtown stores had water two feet deep in basements Saturday and pumps were used to get rid of this, only to have another heavy rain fall Sunday night and Monday morning.
